

Port Hope, Mich.
Aug. 26, 1883.

Mrs. Nettie Rhodes,
Millville, Ill.

Dear Mrs. Rhodes:
I have been thinking of writing to you ever since my sister-in-law forwarded your letter to me, but we are up here resorting, and mother has been ill all the time we have been here, so we have been busy, and I have neglected to write.
Perhaps your place is sold by this time, but I really have had a notion of buying it all the time.

If I had been back in Detroit and attending to business as usual, I really think I would own it now. I shall be back in Detroit by Sept. 10, or 15 at the latest. If you still have the property for sale, write me when you receive this to my present address, and I'll attend to either buying, or not buying when I return to the city.

My city address is 937 Kirby Ave.,
Detroit, Mich.

Until Sept. 10, or 15 it will be

Port Hope,
Huron Co.,
Mich.

Sincerely,
Cora C. Bright.
